A DESTINATION

THAT TICKS ALL THE BOXES

Welcome to Haut-Jura Saint-Claude, a region for those in search of the essence. Set in the heart of the Jura mountains, Saint-Claude boasts a varied landscape of valleys, forests, lakes, waterfalls, hills, pastures and more.

Here, nature is omnipresent, unspoilt, often wild and always authentic. This land of contrasts, rich in exceptional flora and fauna, is an invitation to contemplate, discover and let go.

Easy to get to, this generous mountain is the ideal destination to recharge your batteries.

*A true change of scenery
just a stone's throw away!*

Destination located only:

90 minutes from Lyon

80 minutes from Geneva

RESPECT FOR NATURE

Since 1986, the Haut-Jura area has been protected by the Environmental Charter of the Haut-Jura Regional Nature Park. This includes peatland, dry grasslands, lakes, forests, rocky areas and more. The preserved wilderness of the Haut-Jura mountains is home to a wide range of animal and plant species, some of which are rare and protected. The region also pays particular attention to preserving biodiversity and developing local resources. Environmentally-friendly practices are at the heart of everyday choices.

A VIBRANT & GOURMET REGION

Thriving craftsmanship, inventive industry, sustainable tourism and active agriculture: these are the mainstays of the Haut-Jura's local economy.

Culture, which is present everywhere via museums, festivals and third places such as the Maison du Peuple, reflects a deep attachment to transmission.

Comté, Morbier, Bleu de Gex, Jura wines... these exceptional products embody living know-how, a source of identity and sharing.

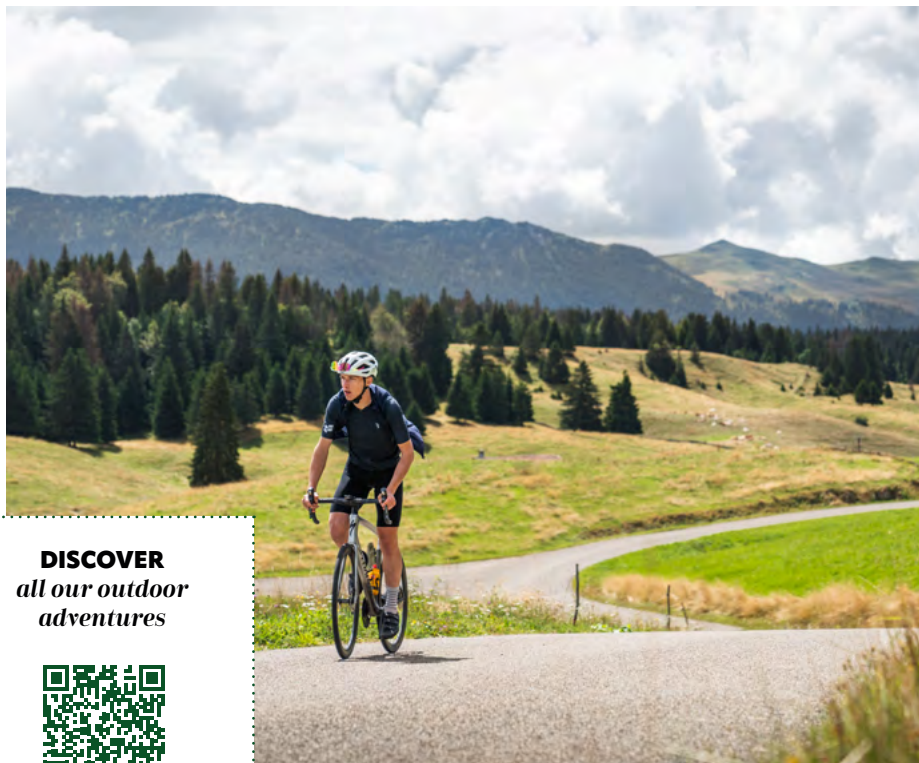

OUTDOOR ACTIVITIES IN ALL SEASONS

Nature is also an endless playground for lovers of outdoor sports such as cycling, hiking, trail running and mountain biking, to recharge your batteries in a mid-mountain setting.

For those looking for an extra dose of adrenalin, explore our mountains another way, with rock climbing on natural rock faces, potholing in the bowels of the mountains, or paragliding over the landscape.

In winter, you can enjoy Nordic skiing, snowshoeing, walking and dog-sledding.

where to stay?

Typical Jura gîtes, mountain chalets, unusual gypsy caravans, open-air refuges and more.

Choosing accommodation also means choosing encounters. Whether out-of-the-ordinary or more traditional, a place to stay becomes an anchor point, and the host becomes an ambassador for the region. With passion and simplicity, the hosts share their good addresses, secret spots and their love of the Haut-Jura.

SPRING IN THE HAUT-JURA

Spring reveals all the richness of the Haut-Jura and becomes an open-air playground for adventure and contemplation. From lakes to rivers, peaks to pastures, the diversity of landscapes is breathtaking.

On foot, along the 600km of signposted trails, or by bike on the many cycle itineraries, everyone can trace their own route through the heart of a gentle, accessible and unspoilt mountain.

But nature is never the only experience here; culture accompanies it at every turn. Museums, arts and crafts, know-how, exhibitions and sporting events bring the season alive.

With 10 waterfalls, 4 lakes and more than 10 belvedere, there's plenty to choose from!

Excursions and delicacies!

A FONDUE TO SAVOUR FROM THE HEIGHTS

Ô Jurassik reinvents hiking with a tasty and unexpected twist. Your guide invites you to explore the landscapes of the Haut-Jura in a different way, with walks accessible to all, punctuated by gourmet breaks in the heart of nature. The concept is simple: combine panoramic views with local gastronomy! There are two options on offer: the Fondue-Rando, with a Jura fondue in an unusual setting, such as the Crêt de Chalam; and the Apéro-Rando, which offers an aperitif of local drinks and produce. The perfect combination of effort, comfort... and Jura conviviality!

One museum, two worlds!

ARCHAEOLOGICAL IMMERSION

In the heart of Saint-Claude, the basement of the Abbey Museum houses a major archaeological site in the restored former abbot's residence (15th-18th centuries). These are the largest and only known remains of Saint-Claude Abbey, founded in the 5th century and one of the oldest abbeys in France.

On the upper floors of the museum, you can also discover a magnificent fine arts collection based on donations from Guy Bardonne and René Genis, as well as one or two temporary exhibitions each year. In 2025, the museum will host Laurent Proux's exhibition, "L'Arbre et la Machine". Comprising some forty works, the exhibition explores the relationship between the body and the industrial world, blending naturalism and the imaginary. Through original works inspired by the industrial lands of the Haut-Jura, Laurent Proux confronts the rigour of workers' techniques with an idealised nature.

SUMMER IN THE HAUT-JURA

At this time of year, outdoor sports such as canyoning, caving, climbing, paragliding, via ferrata, or kayaking come into their own.

Then there are the hikes, walks near waterfalls, walks with animals, or sporting escapades at an altitude for a half-day to several days. Two emblematic routes await you: the Grande Traversée du Jura, through ridges, forests and wild valleys, and the Échappée Jurassienne, a 350km route between mountains and vineyards.

Then it's time to discover our heritage. In summer, discover Saint-Claude through guided tours combining history, architecture and local anecdotes. The programme includes a family-friendly discovery tour of the pipe-making town and its cathedral.

True to its renown as a lively region, the summer is packed with experiences: concerts, exhibitions, festivals, shows, sporting events and gourmet delights and more.

HORSE, NATURE AND THERAPY: BACK TO WHAT MATTERS

In the unspoilt landscapes of Hautes Combes, the Ferme Équestre du Berbois offers a truly therapeutic immersion in the world of horses. These all-inclusive breaks are designed to help you forge a deep connection with the horse and nature; an invitation to slow down, breathe and reconnect with what really matters. There's no performance here, just a fine-tuned understanding of the animal, the body and the environment. Each day begins with an approach on foot, to establish a relationship of trust with the horse, followed by an afternoon on horseback through the steep trails of the Haut-Jura. In respect for their fundamental needs, the horses here live as a herd all year round, without bits or shoes. The power of the experience lies in this coherence between animal well-being and human well-being. For the ultimate immersion experience, you can sleep in a nearby mountain refuge or camp in the heart of nature. This experience is accessible to beginners and experienced riders alike.

WINTER IN THE HAUT-JURA

Winter in the Haut-Jura has its own charm, with or without snow, in cocoon or more sporty mode. Here, the mist spreads gently in the morning, the forest seems suspended in peaceful anticipation as you take the time to observe nature. As night falls, the villages light up with a soft glow and the houses radiate a welcoming warmth. It's time to immerse yourself in a book, listen to inspiring music, meet up by the fire, chat, share moments and memories...

When the snowflakes cover the large valleys and spruce forests, the scenery becomes a picture postcard. Hautes Combes is often compared to a little Canada, and is a great place to slow down and have fun. Nordic skiing, snowshoeing, dog sledding or tobogganing: there's a winter experience for everyone.

SPOTLIGHT ON SAINT-CLAUDE

Situated in the hollow of a valley, crossed by the Bienne and the Tacon rivers, Saint-Claude forged its strong identity from its steep terrain. A city where culture, nature and history go hand in hand. It's a great place to explore on foot, with its frescoes, bridges, quaint alleyways, workshops and shops.

Saint-Claude traces its origins back to the Middle Ages, when the monks Romain and Lupicin settled here. Their monastery became a powerful abbey and a major pilgrimage site until the 18th century. Louis XI himself came to visit the relics of Saint Claude. A specific craft industry developed around these religious roots: wood-turning, rosaries, pipes and snuffboxes.

The town became the capital of pipe-making and also gained renown for its diamond-cutting. Saint-Claude has been awarded the Ville et Métiers d'Art label.

A monument to history!

AN ARCHITECTURAL GEM

The cathedral of Saint-Pierre, Saint-Paul and Saint-André, a listed historic monument, boasts a number of masterpieces, including sculpted choir stalls, an Italian Renaissance altarpiece, a Romanesque organ, original stained glass windows and a chapel dedicated to Saint Claude. The Tourist Office offers guided tours all year round to discover its many secrets, from its foundation in 430 to the present day. To extend the experience and understand the unique history of Saint-Claude, follow a guide through the town and explore its landmarks, from historic buildings to quaint alleyways, must-see squares and lots more.

Historic craftsmanship!

VISIT A PIPE-MAKING WORKSHOP

The Genod Viou workshop in Saint-Claude has been making briar pipes since 1865. Sébastien selects quality briar, hand-crafts the chamber and fits an ebonite or zebu-horn shank. Visits to the workshop are organised throughout the year, allowing visitors to discover the different stages of production, from roughing to polishing, and to admire an exhibition of antique and sculpted pipes.

Between art and history!

DISCOVER DUAL EXPERTISE

Just a stone's throw from Saint-Claude cathedral, the Pipe and Diamond Museum showcases two emblematic skills that have forged the town's identity: pipe-making and diamond-cutting. A truly unique exhibition, the first part of the museum reveals the world of the master pipe-makers through tools, historical machines and an impressive collection of local and international pipes. The tour continues with a lapidary workshop animated by automata, a selection of gem stones, replicas of famous diamonds and exceptional jewels. A film recounting the history and techniques of gem-cutting completes the experience. The chapter house, the ceremonial venue of the brotherhood, is also open to the public.

Mysteries to solve!

ESCAPE FROM THE ABBEY MUSEUM

Two original escape games invite you to explore the museum's two worlds: the fine arts floors on one side, and the archaeological basement on the other. These life-size games offer a new way of experiencing the site.

- "Robbery at the Museum" plunges you into a breathless investigation surrounding a mysterious robbery. Under the guidance of Gasparine, the museum's head of security, you'll have to observe, gather clues and use logic to unmask the burglar and find the missing work... in a very short space of time.
- "Save the Relic" transports you to 1794 and revolutionary turmoil. Sieur Jacquet, servant of the abbot's residence, entrusts you with a crucial mission: to protect a precious relic threatened by the revolutionaries. In this tense historical context, every minute counts to save this treasure from the flames of the Revolution.
